* Location Unknown Sites (LUs) - Extensive effort is made to ensure that as many sites as possible are geocoded or manually pointed for an Atlas E.R. Map & Report. However, due to inaccurate and /or insufficient information within a particular database, some sites cannot be accurately located and may be noted as "LU" in this report. These sites will not appear on the map, but full database information has been included in the report. These sites may or may not be within the area but are submitted for your review.

 All RCRIS Facilities listed within the EPA's CORRACTS (Corrective Action) Database have been included in this report if they are determined to be within the area of review.

 The NRS (National Response System) replaced the ERNS (Emergency Response Notification System) database in the year 2000. It is the sole federal point of contact for spills information.
