Fredericksburg Relief Route Study

Jan. 24, 2019

Dear Neighbors,

The Gillespie County Relief Route Task Force has been charged by the City of Fredericksburg and Gillespie County with exploring the need for, identifying, and developing a viable solution for the potential Fredericksburg Relief Route. To be successful, the ultimate solution must reflect the desires and values of our community while addressing the safety, mobility and quality of life issues that we now experience because of traffic and congestion. To that end, the Gillespie County Relief Route Task Force is working hard to engage the community in a productive dialogue about the potential relief route.

To date, we have received more than 250 written comments, nearly 500 online survey responses and many, many route suggestions. The input and feedback we have received has been used by the Task Force and the study team to mold the study and drive the process.

Today, at the top of each hour starting at 2:00 p.m., there will be a short presentation about the Relief Route Study and the route identification and development process that has led us to where we are today. Through the presentation you will see how suggestions from the community were used to identify the route options and how the community's input and feedback continues to guide the study process. After the presentation, we invite you to step into the Social Hall where you can view the maps of the preliminary route options and information about the study. Staff will be available to provide information and answer questions. As always, your suggestions and comments are needed, so please take a few minutes to complete the online survey and fill out a comment form.

On behalf of the Gillespie County Relief Route Task Force, thank you for being here today to share your comments and ideas. We look forward to hearing from you, and we very much value your time and input.

Sincerely,
Kory Keller
Chairman of the Gillespie County Relief Route Task Force
