

Guidance for Using the Administrative Qualification Status by Firm Lists

Administrative Qualification is a process used by TxDOT to verify that a provider performing engineering and design related services has an indirect cost rate that meets department requirements. TxDOT's Administrative Qualification Group (AQG) is the team within the Professional Engineering Procurement Services (PEPS) Division that is responsible for administering this process. The AQG has published four lists on the TxDOT.gov website to show the administrative qualification status by firm. The table below describes each of the four lists and gives the applicable procurement processes:
